Asian Nations Plan New Korean Move

RAU LEADER BUT REFUSES ANY DETAILS

BY MAX HARRELSON

LAKE SUCCESS, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Thirteen Asian and Middle East countries met behind closed doors today to consider final terms of a new Korean peace plan. They were expected to submit the plan to the political committee of the UN Assembly later in the week.

Sir Benegal Rau, leader of the peace efforts, said he still had received no word from the Chinese Communists as to whether they would accept a previous appeal to halt at the 38th parallel.

Plan Details Secret. Details of the new plan were kept secret, but informed quarters said the resolution would include an appeal for a cease-fire and probably would urge creation of a demilitarized buffer zone along the 38th parallel, old dividing line between North and South Korea.

The conference was held while the political committee, in a nearby room, continued its debate on a six-power resolution demanding withdrawal of the Chinese Reds from Korea.

A spokesman for the United States said the U. S. would not comment on the 13-nation plan until they saw it in its final form.

Military Plan Accepted. He said, however, the U. S. delegation would be inclined to go along with the proposal if it is based solely on the military situation and has no political connotations.

The first speaker in the political committee was Malik of Lebanon.

The 13-nation meeting adjourned shortly after 12 noon, without any final decision being announced.

The participating countries were scheduled to meet again at 2:30 p. m.

Delegates who took part in the secret conference said afterward Pakistan proposed a modification of the Indian plan, calling for a cease-fire and then letting the UN negotiate terms of a Korean truce with China and North Korea.

Two Separate Moves. During the recess, an attempt was made to bring the two plans together. One delegate said the Indian plan, with its buffer zone

Wage-Price Curbs Hinted This Week

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—(AP)—President Truman today gave intense study to the question of declaring a national emergency—possibly to be followed by wage-price controls—and asked both Democratic and Republican congressional leaders to meet with him Wednesday.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) was one of those invited to a White House meeting at 9 a. m. Wednesday. It was the first time Taft, head of the senate GOP policy committee, has been brought into the emergency consultations since the Korean war.

Bi-Partisan Approach. A White House announcement said the congressional group was being called to the White House "to discuss matters concerning the proclamation of a national emergency and related matters."

It added that the President "is particularly anxious now, as always, to continue and strengthen the Bi-Partisan approach to these matters."

Indications were piling up that the administration was swinging to the thought that action in the wage-price field must be taken with every day that passes.

Something may be done before the week's end.

Emergency Discussed. The White House said the question of declaring a national emergency was being discussed.

March Of Dimes Plans Outlined

AUSTIN, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Plans for fighting polio in Texas during 1951 were made here today.

Beat O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, helped Texas March of Dimes leaders work out their strategy to meet next year's challenge.

O'Connor reviewed what happened in Texas during 1950, when polio hit a new peak in this state, saying:

"I mention this situation in Texas only to give you a picture of what happens just one state in the course of a severe epidemic. At such a time, local economies go out the window. Huge amounts of money are needed to care for a case load that doubles and redoubles with every day that passes."

"March of Dimes funds raised locally are never enough. More and more it becomes necessary to go outside the community and ask for help in areas not severely affected to contribute what they can."

Only by pooling all available resources on a national level can every community be guaranteed help when polio strikes in epidemic proportions.

Guerrilla War Value On China Mainland Weighed

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Some American military men believe guerrilla warfare on the Chinese mainland by Chiang Kai-shek's forces, with some help, could do effective damage to the Chinese Communists.

Opinion, expressed to a reporter today by officials who cannot be named, is based on military factors. It does not take into account international political and diplomatic considerations of disapproval, there is reluctance to push the idea.

Dangers Involved. One military view is that such operations would be of definite value as a diversionary operation to draw away some of the Chinese Communist strength now being poured into the war in Korea.

President Truman has been cool to proposals to aid the Chinese Nationalist guerrilla effort because of the danger that Russia might seize upon such aid as pretext for openly intervening in the Asiatic war.

Nevertheless, it is known that some quiet, long-range studies are underway here which could be used if and when administration and diplomatic policies change.

Among other developments, a high ranking officer of one of the services who was an expert on guerrilla activities in the Far East during World War II has been brought back to Washington from an overseas assignment to help in the studies.

Dispatches from the Far East suggest that a sizeable Nationalist guerrilla force exists in China. Spencer Moosa, Associated Press correspondent in Formosa, says estimates range from less than 1,000,000 up to 1,600,000. But he points out they are poorly equipped, with old arms and little ammunition. And, he adds, they need a unified leadership.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur was reported to have wanted to accept, early in the Korean war, Chiang Kai-shek's offer to send 33,000 of his Formosa troops to Korea to join in the war against the Communist. Washington turned thumbs down on his proposal for both political and military reasons.

Some Opposition. Aside from the now well-debated political reasons, some high Pentagon officials are opposed to the idea.

Cohen Attorney Is Found Killed

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Sam Rummel, 52, prominent attorney who represented Gambler Mickey Cohen in many of his legal entanglements, was found shot to death on the front steps of his home today.

Detectors listed Rummel's death as murder under mysterious circumstances.

The coroner's office, after a cursory examination, said the death was a possible homicide.

"Rummel was shot in the neck," said investigating detectives. "The bullet came out the back of his head."

Informants of the slaying, Cohen declared excitedly: "My god! My god! It's not so."

The suave Rummel long had been a close associate of Cohen. He occupied a $500,000 home on a densely wooded estate in fashionable Laurel Canyon.

His death brought to three the number of Cohen's intimates killed since 1948.

Acting committee chairman Olin Culberson, member of the Texas Railroad Commission, was directed to ask the committee to draft and approve such a resolution.

The resolution would: 1. Ask that the oil industry be placed as a critical industry such as shipyards.

"We are not seeking deferment for our men," the committee said, "but hate to see our men leave the oil industry and go to a shipyard."

Steel Allocation. 2. Seek an equitable allocation of steel pipe based on the actual number of wells to be drilled, with no pipe permitted to go into inventory for future use.

A. W. Thompson, president of the American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors, recommended that the industry be given priority in the use of steel pipe.

Change Of Venue Denied In Trial Of S. L. Burnett

By CLYDE JOHNSON

Daily Sun Staff. An effort to have S. L. (Rags) Burnett tried outside Navarro county was denied by Judge A. P. Mays Monday afternoon after Burnett and three other men had been called to face trial on charges of "keeping and exhibiting a policy game" during the morning.

Defense attorneys filed motions for a change of venue in the Burnett case, charging "prejudice" exist against him in Navarro county.

State Announces Ready. Special Prosecutor Bohn Bond of League announced the state was ready in the Burnett case despite the fact that two important witnesses were absent.

When the defense, through Attorney Maury Hughes of Dallas, presented the change of venue motion, six witnesses testified they felt sure Burnett could not be tried in a fair and impartial trial.

Hughes indicated no motions would be presented in the other three cases. Defendants are J. R. (Red) Derden, Aubrey A. (Jack) Thomas and Samuel Hooker.

Arrested Oct. 18. Burnett and these three were arrested the night of Oct. 18 by city, county and state officers who seized a quantity of "policy game" equipment at a private residence on Highway 31 east of Corsicana. They were indicted Nov. 6.

Witnesses testifying Monday morning in support of the defense motion for change of venue were R. L. Brown, P. Hayes, Bill Pote, O'Daniel and E. B. Breedlove.

A noon recess until 1 p. m. was called after they testified. The state contested the defense motion.

Louisiana And Texas Ordered To Give Accounting

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—(AP)—The Supreme Court today ordered Texas and Louisiana to give an accounting of royalties they have obtained from submerged oil lands in the Gulf of Mexico.

The accounting is to begin with last June 5—the date on which the court decided the Federal Government has no rights to lands under the seabed along the coast of the two states in turn.

The accounting order was part of a decree issued by the Supreme Court to carry out its June ruling. The justice department had asked that the accounting begin with June 23, 1947. That was the date the Supreme Court decided the Federal Government has paramount rights to submerged lands off the coast of California.

The department said the 1947 decision gave fair warning to coastal states that their right to collect money from products taken from the seabed off their coasts was "highly doubtful."

But the high court rejected the 1947 date and fixed instead the June 5, 1950 date to begin the accounting in the Texas and Louisiana cases.

Oilmen Warned Action Necessary In Event Of War

HOUSTON, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Oilmen were warned today that they must take immediate action to prevent manpower and steel equipment shortage in event of another war.

The regulatory practices committee of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission voted to propose a resolution calling for allocation of steel and the oil industry being placed in a critical category as to manpower.

Resolution Urged. Acting committee chairman Olin Culberson, member of the Texas Railroad Commission, was directed to ask the committee to draft and approve such a resolution.

MACARTHUR SAYS UN UNITS REMAIN UNBEATEN; BIG FLEET IS READY FOR EVENTUALITIES

TOKYO, Dec. 11.—(AP)—General MacArthur flew to Korea today for a hard look at his heavily-hit United Nations command. He said it remains unbeaten, relatively secure, and able to battle the Chinese hordes.

His secret visit to both the northwest and northeast fronts came as the last elements of 25,000 bone-cold, unshaven American Marines and Doughboys streamed down onto the Hamhung coastal plain from a series of Red traps near Changjin reservoir.

A huge fleet stood off Hamhung's port of Hungnam. But whether it would evacuate the weary, outnumbered U. S. 10th Corps units in the northeast remained to be seen. The northwest front was relatively quiet.

Guarded Optimism. There was a note of guarded optimism in MacArthur's statement to correspondents after he returned to Tokyo from his quick trip to the warfronts. He had conferred on-the-spot with his top generals.

"The United Nations command in spite of its recent heavy fighting, is in excellent shape with high morale and conspicuous self confidence," the UN commander said. "Although heavily outnumbered, it has come through in a superior manner."

"The enemy's claims of United Nations losses in men and material are fantastically exaggerated. We are being forced to give ground but our fighting capacity has suffered little general impairment."

Claims Chinese Failed. He added that the Chinese Reds had failed in a plan to destroy our destruction by one massive stroke.

All our units are intact and the losses inflicted on the enemy have been staggering—estimated by local commanders in the field as high as 10 to one compared to our own," MacArthur said.

It was the general's first statement to correspondents on the Korean campaign since he personally directed the allied end-of-the-war offensive at daybreak Nov. 24—a push which led to a full retreat the night of Nov. 25 by huge-battering hordes of Chinese infantry.

It was evident that MacArthur was concerned seriously about the condition of his forces, particularly the U. S. Far East Air Force and units of the Army's Seventh Infantry Division which battled through a frozen, Chinese-lined hell for two weeks on both sides and

Texas Thunderjet Group In Action Against Chinese

TOKYO, Dec. 11.—(AP)—U. S. jet planes which can fly faster than 600 miles an hour and have a combat radius of 1,000 miles were in action today against the Chinese Reds in Korea.

Gen. George E. Stratemeyer, commander of U. S. Far East Air Forces, said the Republic F-84E Thunderjet fighters made their first Korean raid Thursday and have been in service every day since.

Inflict Heavy Damage. Four Thunderjets from the 27th fighter group hit two locomotives, some vehicles and some Communist supply centers east of Pyongyang in their first combat flight and inflicted heavy damage.

The Thunderjets carry six .50 caliber machineguns and can deliver two 1,000-pound bombs and 16 five-inch rockets.

The Thunderjet is the third U. S. jet fighter to be employed in the Korean war.

The jet standby of the Air Force against the Reds has been the Lockheed F-80 Shooting Star, the first jet-propelled combat aircraft accepted by the U. S. Air Force.

Contempt Term Is Tossed Out By Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—(AP)—The supreme court today threw out the contempt sentence given to answer questions about alleged Communist activities.

An 8-0 decision overturned the one-year jail sentence imposed at Denver on Mrs. Patricia Blau who refused to answer the questions because she said she might incriminate herself.

Justice Clark delivered the court's opinion, which Justice Black took no part in.

In her appeal Mrs. Blau said that if she answered the questions she might make herself liable to prosecution under the 1940 Espionage act. That law makes it a crime to teach or advocate the violent overthrow of the government.

Mrs. Blau pointed to the New York conviction of 11 top Communist leaders under the act and claimed for herself the constitutional guarantee against self-incrimination.

Agreeing with her contention, Black said that provisions of the Smith act "made future prosecution of Mrs. Blau far more than a mere 'imaginary possibility.'"

An appeal by the 11 Communist leaders is pending before the high court. They have attacked the legality of the 10-year-old law.

Natural Rubber Usage Is Slashed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—(AP)—The government today ordered a cut in the use of natural rubber in new automobile tires.

The National Production Authority announced that in January and February manufacturers must reduce the consumption of natural rubber by 28 per cent from November levels.

The government quota set by NPA under a previous order was 52,000 tons of natural rubber. The total amount of consumption of both natural and synthetic rubber for the month was 90,000 tons.

NPA said its January and February quotas—despite the reduction in natural rubber use—still remains at approximately 90,000 tons. The cut-back in natural rubber allotments will be made up by additional supplies of synthetic rubber.

Specifically, it said, the natural rubber quota will be 40,000 tons in January and 35,000 tons in February. This represents a 28 per cent reduction for the two months against the 52,000-ton November allotment.

New Autopilot For Jets Listed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—(AP)—A new automatic pilot being produced for the air force can guide jet planes through good or bad weather and may even fire their guns aimed by radar.

The air force announced the device, calling it "the first mechanism developed which can meet the high speed and maneuverability required to fly today's jet fighters."

Automatic pilots are customary in bombers and transports, but not fighters.

The new robot pilot, called the F-5 Autopilot, was developed by Lear, Inc. of Grand Rapids, Mich., in co-operation with the air material command.

Once off the ground, the pilot can point his plane toward its goal and relax. To turn right or left, to climb or descend, he needs only two tiny controls to perform all simple flying maneuvers.

Lewis Needs Only To Use Telephone To Start Pay Talk

By HAROLD W. WARD

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—(AP)—If he feels like it, John L. Lewis has only to pick up his telephone to start a movement for a fourth round wage increase for his coal miners. He has given no indication of any plan to move before next spring, but he seldom tips his hand in advance.

Only Two Spokesmen. The industry is now so organized that Lewis need only call Harry M. Moses, official spokesman for most of the commercial and steel companies' mines in northwestern and western fields, or Joseph E. Moody, head of the southern group. Both have offices about 300 yards from Lewis' United Mine Workers headquarters.

The contracts covering most of the nation's hard and soft coal diggers don't expire until April 1, 1951. However, there is no bar to voluntary wage increases if the operators agree to them before controls are slapped on prices and wages.

'Voluntary Concession'. Most operators believe that since Lewis usually puts great emphasis on his contracts, he is more likely to ask for a voluntary concession than to kick over the traces. The mine owners themselves insisted on a one-year reopening clause in

Tillers Of Soil Will Speak Minds At Annual Farm Bureau Federation Meet

By WILBUR MARTIN

DALLAS, Dec. 11.—(AP)—The man on the farm speaks his mind today and for the next three days at the 32nd annual American Farm Bureau Federation convention.

Uppermost in the minds of the representatives of nearly one and one-half million farm families is the threat of war, inflation, agricultural price controls and a possible labor shortage.

To Face Problems. These are expected to be the main topics thrashed out in general sessions starting Tuesday. High officials of industry and government are to speak at the general meetings. These include Henry Ford, II, and Sen. Allen J. Ellender of Louisiana.

But just what problems each phase of agriculture faces is to be covered in a series of commodity conferences today.

British Troops With Fixed Bayonets Move On Frenzied Malayan Rioters

By LARRY ALLEN

SINGAPORE, Dec. 11.—(AP)—British troops with bayonets fixed to their rifles moved into the riot-torn streets of Singapore tonight to battle fanatical rioters who were attacking a court fight between a Dutch mother and a Malayan nurse for custody of a white child.

Hundreds of soldiers in trucks rolled through the downtown sectors where the mobs were battling police, attacking Europeans and overturning and burning automobiles.

Court Building Stormed. About 6,000 Malaysians stormed for three hours at the supreme court building, where a hearing was underway on an appeal to return 13-year-old, Bertha Maria Hertogh, to her Malay foster mother and her Moslem school teacher husband.

Then thousands of fanatic Moslems raged toward the Catholic convent where the girl and her Dutch mother were reported in hiding. They threatened to kidnap the child and burn the convent "if it took all night."

After eight hours, the mobs still

Traffic, Shootings Account For Most Of 25 Violent Texas Weekend Deaths

Daily Sun Staff.

Winners of the Navarro County Farm Bureau Cotton production contest for 1950 will receive their cash awards next week.

Tentative date for announcing the 16 winners has been set for Dec. 20, Farm Bureau President Hugh Walker announced. Prizes will total about $300, with the first place winner netting $100.

Contest Chairman Buddy Brooks reported 21 entries were received. Purpose of the contest, open only to young 4-H and FFA members in the county, was to assist youths in developing an active program for cotton production, and to secure information on cultural practices which will be of value to other cotton farmers.

The youths were required to keep records of practices employed. Two $66 prizes will be awarded.

CORSICANA, TEX., DEC. 12, 1950

ON ATOMIC ASSAULT

Despite the bellicose talk about it which has been heard in some circles, most Americans are not prepared in mind for the use of the atomic bomb. This was clearly indicated in the reactions to President Truman's press conference statement that use of the bomb in Korea, as one of our weapons, was being considered. The statement was almost stunning to many Americans. It seems also to have stunned our allies.

There is some sincere belief that we should flatly forego the use of the bomb for moral reasons. This argument is the most difficult to rationalize, and the most dangerous to our world position. The choice between the rifle and the atomic bomb is no more a moral one than the choice between the rifle and the bow and arrow. Once war has begun, questions of the relative morality of weapons become academic. But a general belief in other capitals of the world that we would be restrained by moral considerations from use of the atomic bomb would destroy any usefulness of the bomb as a threat. It would then become of value only if exploded.

The use of the bomb would be a highly significant step, for it would signal unmistakably the end of any period of limited effort in the Korea enterprise. It is a very serious question whether we are justified in placing a political limit on the effectiveness of that effort. If we do not want to win in Korea, and win at the earliest possible moment, why are we there?

The decision boils down to a military one. The atomic bomb is too significant, too destructive and too costly to be used casually. Yet if the situation arises in which the use of the bomb is clearly indicated for strategic and tactical reasons, both Americans and others should know that neither political nor moral demurrals are likely to override the military decision. The political and military objectives are, after all, the same. And it is more moral to attempt to end a war than to prolong it. Would the atomic bomb end the war or spread it? There's the rub.

CHANGE IN PUERTO RICO

One change characteristic to backward countries is their tendency to lack co-ordination of effort. Imaginative community enterprises, so necessary to progress, are seldom seen in such countries.

Puerto Rico, victim of this condition, is putting on a campaign to urge its more or less isolated citizens to work together in improving themselves and their way of life. This community education project is under the direction of an American, Fred G. Wale, former education director of the Julius Rosenwald Fund. He was invited by the Puerto Rican government to take charge.

DEATH IN THE AIR

When smog settles over an area, the danger in the air can be sensed by everyone. It irritates the nose, the eyes and the throat, and creates an urgent wish to escape from its soft but penetrating touch.

But even when thick, obvious smog is not in evidence the danger still exists where the air is polluted by large amounts of smoke or gases. Studies in some of the larger cities have shown that the death rate from respiratory and heart causes is definitely higher in the smoky sections of the city than in the cleaner surrounding suburbs.

If our system of higher education is to survive, something must be done about the lopsided college football scores.

From November to January is a handy period for some of the newly elected office-holders. It allows just about enough time for them

"JUST TOO BAD."

That Christmas comes but once a year, some grumpy folks are glad. But that it comes no more than once I think it just too bad. 'Twould do us all a lot of good if longer it could stay. And what the Christmas spirit does could happen every day.

There'd be more smiles and fewer frowns for all of us to see if as we are at Christmas time, just once a week we'd be. Our minds would hold less bitterness and more of wishing well.

If every morning when we rose we heard the Christmas bell. Gift giving is the custom old, and little girls and boys get happiness from dolls and drums and all the Christmas toys.

But men and women want the love that gladdens Christmas Day. And once a year seems not enough to have it on display. The good will of the Christmas time a happier world would make. It needs the Christmas kindness that is done for friendship's sake.

It needs the tender spirit and the warmth of Christmas cheer. And so I think it just too bad it comes but once a year.

to forget their campaign promises before taking the oath of office, and for the people to realize that it was just hot air which fanned them so lustily.

The snow which swamped many parts of the nation the other day really wasn't so tough. It was the same stuff the United Nations troops were battling through in Korea, except that it wasn't mixed with bullets.

Marines Comparatively Safe
A Marine spokesman said the last elements of the 25,000-man escape force completed the hazardous, winding descent from snow-bound mountains ringing the big hydroelectric reservoir to the coastal plain leading to Hamhung.

(The 25,000 figure for the escape force came from AP Correspondent Stan Swinton, who was on the spot. Exactly how many got out and how many casualties were suffered were closely guarded by the military as security secrets. However, official estimates last week had fixed the number trapped at about 20,000, and they picked up additional units at Hagaru and Koto.

If at full strength, the Marine Division and two Army Regiments in the operation would have exceeded 30,000 originally, but unit strengths are so variable that no firm deductions can be drawn. The bitter 50-mile retreat—the longest and one of few in the history of the spirited Marine Corps—began Nov. 28. The spokesman estimated the Leathernecks alone killed 15,000 Chinese in breaking through the series of traps.

Linkup Made Sunday
With the Marines were the 31st and 32nd regiments of the Seventh Division and about 100 British Royal Marines. They joined forces Sunday with a northbound task force of the U. S. Third Division after a vital bridge, blown by the Chinese, was repaired.

One grimy, bewhiskered Leatherneck, huddled in his tattered parka, probably expressed the feelings of all of them with his comment: "It was tough. That's all—tough!" A Marine medical officer compared the Leatherneck casualties to those the corps suffered in taking the tiny Atoll of Tarawa in World War II—3,188 men. But total Marine and Doughboy casualties were higher.

AP Correspondent Jack MacBeth, the only wire service newsmen who was with the trapped force, said more than 4,000 wounded were flown from the snow-mantled airstrip at Koto into two days before the final breakout drive.

Casualties High
Most of the wounded were Marines. There was no estimate of American dead, but MacBeth said the number would be high. "I watched nearly 200 bodies nosed into a big grave by a bulldozer. There was no time for more elaborate arrangements."

MacBeth called the withdrawal "one of the fightingest retreats in military history." He said the Leathernecks walked out of 12 days of freezing hell, full of fight after a gory nightmare of death in Korea's icy mountains.

Temperatures at times plunged to 25 degrees below zero. The Marine retreat began Nov. 28 from the flea-bitten village of Yudam west of Changjin reservoir. Three Red Chinese divisions and one regiment attacked the two Marine regiments.

Five days later the Marines, badly battered, reached Hagaru south of the reservoir. There they joined other Marine units and Doughboys who had fought down from Changjin's eastern shores.

"Bloodiest Battle of War"
They pushed out at daybreak for Koto, six or seven miles south for 24 hours, MacBeth said, they fought one of the bloodiest battles of the Korean war. They streamed into Koto—blood frozen to their skins; their clothes stiff with ice; grotesque dead men lying across trails and stretchers; live men stumbling along, grimacing from frostbite using their rifles as crutches.

Then on Friday morning they began to retreat from Koto, up a high mountain plateau, then down to a snow-choked river gorge to the valley floor 12 miles away. They linked up with a north-bound rescue column early Sunday. Somewhere north of Hamhung

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

was another American force, 6,000 men of the Seventh Division's 17th regimental combat team. The regiment's withdrawal from the Manchurian border at Hyesanjin still was cloaked by a security silence. Its retreat route stretched over more than 100 miles of mountainous, Red-dominated territory.

Rok Units Withdrawing
On the far northeast coast, elements of two Republic of Korea (Rok) divisions, the third and the capital, were retreating southward toward Hamhung and its port of Hungnam. Some of the Roks were removed by sea.

But the two cities still are threatened. A force of two Chinese Red divisions—up to 20,000 men—was reported moving toward Hamhung from the northwest.

A 10th corps spokesman said American troops were in wait for them. U. S. warplanes continued hammering Chinese troops and supply arteries throughout North Korea. Marine and Navy pilots from the carriers Leyte and Sicily reported killing more than 2,000 Chinese Sunday in a single sector north of Hamhung. Fifth Air Force pilots estimated 1,600 Chinese were killed or wounded in northwest sectors.

B-29s blasted five Red military centers—Pyongyang, the Korean Red capital; Kunu, Huichon, Suncheon and Kanggye. The bomb loads were aimed at rail lines and yards, barracks and air fields.

Few Planes Challenged
Except for one brush with six Russian-made MIG-15 jet fighters, the Allied planes again were unchallenged. Four American F-80 jets took on the Red fighters in a 15-minute dogfight. One Red jet was shot down. The others fled to the safety of Manchuria.

Observation plane pilots spotted to 8,000 men of the North Korean refugees toward South Korea. An air summary reported: "Entire populations of North Korean towns are seemingly migrating southward in the face of Chinese Communist advance."

Thus, thousands of Koreans were paying scant heed to Red Premier Kim Il Sung's broadcast call for civilians to give all possible aid to Red guerrillas and the Chinese "volunteers."

Kim's statement, broadcast in Chinese by the Peiping radio, predicted a Communist victory in Korea with the aid of the Soviet Union. He called for a battle of annihilation against U. N. forces.

But there was no heavy Chinese push anywhere in Korea Sunday. MacArthur's headquarters reported "very little enemy activity" throughout the day as friendly defensive positions were improved.

A patrol of the U. S. 24th division engaged the Reds in a 45-minute skirmish before contact was broken on the northwest front. Chinese forces reported the Red buildup was continuing from the Yalu river boundary to Pyongyang. North Korean forces, regrouped and reorganized from their crushing defeat in September and October, were "showing a greater degree of cohesion and organization," headquarters added.

In Seoul, the Republican capital, United Nations and American officials said the city, but U. S. Ambassador John G. Muccio said no more departures were planned. A high ranking Eighth Army spokesman said Sunday "no commitments" had been made to defend the capital.

The battered but unbeaten Allied forces were going to get another measure of help, although nothing to match the Chinese hordes. A New Zealand expeditionary force of 600 artillerymen sailed Sunday from Wellington for active duty in Korea.

Heads Up!
By W. P. BROWN
Of Johnson's Pharmacy

In school days the expression "Heads Up!" was often heard and while it wasn't appreciated by us as children it did help to give us better appearance and posture.

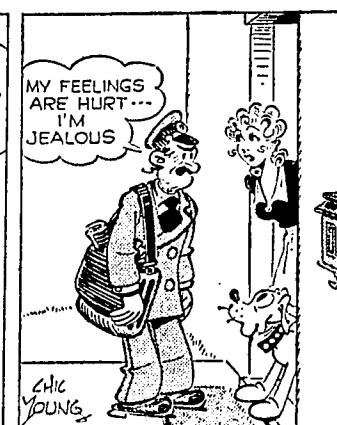

How much more alert, active, and poised appears the individual with good posture, and actually he does have a greater sense of well-being because of his good appearance.

You would be surprised at how much good posture can contribute to your health, too. Speaking of your health, have you had your physical examination this year?

angle, meant 13-nation negotiations with China outside UN channels. The Pakistans plan called for keeping the dealings entirely on a UN basis.

One delegate said the draft presented by Rau was liable to be radically changed before an agreement this afternoon, but he predicted there would be some general agreement.

The U. S. so far has refused to accept anything in such a way as to imply recognition of it as a legal government. There has been no hint it might modify this position in order to take part in such talks. Washington has insisted that the UN be the proper forum for the negotiations.

Inclusion of a proposal for direct negotiations—instead of through the UN—might be one of the "objectionable qualifications" which the State Department said it would oppose in a ceasefire resolution.

Except for such "qualifications," the department said, it would not object—at least in theory—to such a plan.

Principals Not Consulted.

Rau said he had not discussed his ideas with the Americans and had no idea whether they would support his move. He also said he did not know whether the Chinese Reds would agree to any plan he might propose.

The Indian diplomat met with Britain's Sir Gladwyn Jebb Sunday. Jebb then conferred with American Delegate Ernest A. Gross. Rau briefed Jebb on the resolution and also filled him in on talks he held Saturday with Chinese Communist Representative Wu Hsiu-Chuan.

Rau said Wu told him: "I am Communist China wants the armistice to end as early as possible. But Wu made no suggestions as to how this could be accomplished, Rau added."

2. Peking was giving careful attention to the 13-nation appeal for a ceasefire at the 38th parallel. But Wu made no suggestions as to how this could be accomplished, Rau added."

Three Proposals Pending.

Introduction of the Indian resolution—which is expected to be cosponsored by several other Asian countries—will give the 60-nation UN General Assembly three proposals dealing with the Chinese Red intervention in Korea.

One is the American-backed plan calling for withdrawal of Chinese forces. Russia vetoed this when it was before the Security Council.

The second is a Soviet resolution calling for withdrawal of "foreign" (i.e. United Nations) troops from Korea. The third will be the Indian plan.

How introduction of the Indian plan would affect progress of the earlier American-backed resolution was not apparent.

STOCKPILING REFUSED

DALLAS, Dec. 11.—(P)—The head of the nation's wool-growing industry said the munitions board was "not a strategic material."

"Now," said Howard Vaughn of Dixon, Calif., America finds itself in the "ridiculous position of having to buy wool abroad in competition with Russia and our domestic market."

The retiring president of the National Wool Growers Association said America played into Russia's hands by failing to stockpile woolen cloth.

In commenting on a report by Sen. Lyndon Johnson's preparedness committee that a critical wool shortage exists at a time when soldiers fighting in Korea need warm clothing, he said:

"I asked the munitions board in 1948 and again in 1949 to stockpile wool, but they only replied that wool was not a strategic material."

Now, he said, the army has asked the department of agriculture to buy 30,000,000 pounds by next October.

Vaughn means we must buy it from Australia in competition with Russia and since June, Russian orders have appeared almost all raises in wool prices."

Russians, he doesn't think Russia needs to buy Australian wool—that he thinks Russia has been stockpiling wool since 1936. But he said the five per cent of the Australian output that Russia "has bought is not enough to make the price go up."

"Russia is only trying to wreck our economy," he declared.

Vaughn was to address a livestock conference at the American Farm Bureau Federation convention today.

Navarro Cagers Open Conference Play On Jan. 12

Conference basketball play for the Navarro Junior College team gets under way on Jan. 12, Coach Ken Clark announced Friday.

A departure from the usual lineup of competing teams may give Navarro a better chance for the title, along with the other football-playing members of the Texas Junior College Athletic conference.

Lon Morris, which does not play football, and which has dominated the circuit in basketball in past years, is teamed up with other non-football schools like LeTourneau Tech and Texarkana. Navarro and the other schools which play football as well as basketball are in their own circuit, and the winners of each of these circuits will play each other for the over-all title.

Included in Navarro's league is Allen Academy, Panola, Henderson and Blinn.

Navarro's schedule, which gets under way on Jan. 12, is as follows:

Jan. 12—Navarro at Allen Academy.

Jan. 17—Henderson County at Navarro.

Jan. 20—Panola at Corsicana.

Jan. 26—Navarro at Blinn.

Feb. 2—Navarro at Henderson County.

Feb. 14—Blinn at Navarro.

Feb. 17—Allen Academy at Navarro.

Coach Ken Clark of the Bulldogs said Friday that the local collegians will enter an invitational basketball tournament at Ranger on Dec. 15.

Clark will try to match a practice game for his Bulldogs in Corsicana on Dec. 13.

After ten days of cage practice, the Bulldogs are beginning to get into condition. The addition of Norman Bennett and Kenneth Scarbrough to the Bulldog lineup may add some reserve strength, but their lack of high school experience may handicap them in making the first string.
